Communities in Schools Program brings resources and volunteers into the schools

According to Director Sandy Diacobbi, Community in Schools is about relationships, not programs, that create hope and changes in children. CIS's philosophy is based on these five basics that every child deserves: (1) a personal one-on-one relationship with a caring adult. (2) a safe place to learn and grow (3) a healthy start and a healthy future (4) a marketable skill to use after graduation. and (5) a chance to give back to peers and the community.

CIS is not a specific program imposed on kids and schools. Instead, it is a process by which local leaders, community members, parents, and students embrace the idea that keeping all kids in school is essential to the social and economic future of the community.

CIS works with school staff and families to identify needs and objectives within each school building. CIS then aligns existing services and designs programs to meet the specific goals. Sandy's job is to coordinate whole-school initiatives, intensive short-term services to students with immediate needs, and sustain services for those needing continuing support to succeed in school.

Education is not a privilege; it's entitled to every child. But it cannot be the sole responsibility of a school system. It is everyone's responsibility because every child belongs to a community.

CIS is knocking down those hurdles one by one. If you would like to be a part of CIS, give Sandy a call at 728-4583.

Words of wisdom from Paul Harris

May we not forget that each member has one duty to Rotary, which is distinctly individual, as much so as that of the shortstop on a baseball team. It is that he's representing his trade or profession. I am the sole representative of my profession in my Rotary club. It is a responsibility to be proud of, as well as to fear. It ought to be a great stimulus to efficiency.

Famous Quotes

--Duty determines destiny.

--In doing what we ought we deserve no praise. We are simply doing our duty.

--Duty is the sublimest word in our language. Do your duty in all things. You cannot do more. You should never wish to do less.
