Major Dewey Alderson – Salvation Army

Dean introduced Major Dewey Alderson who came out of retirement for the third time to oversee construction of the new Salvation Army building on Bridges St. Arriving from their home in Florida three days after hurricane Florence, Major Dewey and his wife dug right into hurricane relief operations.

Major Dewey graduated from

The Salvation Army College and spent most of his 45-year career working with drug rehab programs. His wife and two daughters are also Salvation Army College graduates. The Army is a family mission and career.

The hurricane relief effort to date has provided 29,000 meals, 30,000 cold drinks, and housing for 130 families. A Salvation Army counselor is present at every food station to minister to additional needs which has resulted in 40,000 individual counseling sessions.

In addition to a church area and rooms for all programs, the new building will include an 11,000 sf thrift store, a 3,000 sf warehouse, a commercial kitchen with walk-in freezer and a generator.

Completion date is August 2019.

Two weeks in a row!

Jim won the draw two weeks in a row. He attributes his luck to buying the first ticket of the evening. Now, if he could get lucky in the card draw, he'd be happy!
