Morehead City's Treasure: Webb Memorial Library and Civic Center

The Webb family gave Morehead City a wonderful asset by providing for our own Morehead City Library at 9th and Evans. Although the City manages the building, the Webb family endowed the library through the Webb Foundation, in part, to help educate our citizenry. The origin of a library in MHC was through the Women's Club who were given a room to use on the second floor of the building. When circumstances permitted, the library expanded into the entire building. Jordan Salter met with us to showcase all of the services provided by Webb Library and to explain how our library differs from the network of libraries in Carteret County. Webb is an independent library whose mission is social, civic and educational.

The 8,500 square foot building has several meeting rooms that are used free of charge by various non-profit groups in the community – religious, home owners' associations, political groups, tutors – you name it.

The library also has a social function in that many individuals who are unemployed, or without housing or a support network, find a safe haven in the library. Staff works with each individual and provides guidance on locating support services, housing or employment.

In addition to the book collection, Webb provides computers, internet access, and movies for check out. If there's a book that someone would like to read that is not in the collection, the library will order it and let the individual know when it arrives.

The main entrance to the library is off 9th Street but there is an accessible entry behind the building and elevator access to the second floor. What a great Webb family legacy!
