Fall Oyster Roast Planned for December

“Claude Fournier, I am returning for your oyster roast”

Somehow the news has reached Japan that Claude Fournier is having an oyster roast from 5:30-8:00 pm, December 6th at his home on 4118 Sound Drive Morehead City. Kazuko, our Japanese group study exchange member, is honing her skills for a return visit. She has a glove and oyster knife and she is ready to shuck some oysters.

Claude invites all Rotarians and their spouses to the roast. He would especially like Rotarians to bring a prospective member with them. All Claude asks is we bring the fixin's--desserts, crackers, maybe some chicken for those who don't eat oysters, or anything else you can think of that would complement an oyster roast. Claude's cell number is 808-7947. Give him a call and let him know what you can bring. Mary would appreciate it too.

The History of Oysters

Oysters, best known for their reputed aphrodisiac powers, have been a favorite of food lovers throughout the centuries, beginning with the Roman emperors who paid for them by their weight in gold.

Oysters have always been linked with love. When Aphrodite, the Greek goddess of love, sprang forth from the sea on an oyster shell and promptly gave birth to Eros, the word "aphrodisiac" was born. The dashing lover Casanova also used to start a meal eating 12 dozen oysters.

Oysters have been an important food since the Neolithic period and were cultivated long before the Christian era. The Greeks served them with wine and the Romans were so enthusiastic about these marvelous mollusks that they sent thousands of slaves to the shores of the English channel to gather them.

Fresh lemon juice or Worcestershire sauces are both good accompaniments. There are also two classic sauces to be served with raw oysters. The first is a mignonette sauce with shallots and vinegar and the second is a chili sauce.

Famous Quote

If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music which he hears, however measured or far away.
